

Instructions:

1. Write the names of Krashen's Hypotheses in each bubble below.
2. Select an Associated Teaching Strategy from the list to align with each hypothesis.
3. Then, extend each bubble and add in your own teaching strategies and techniques to support ELs at varying English proficiency levels.

Krashen's Monitor Model Hypotheses	Associated Teaching Strategies (not in order)
Affective Filter Hypothesis Input Hypothesis Acquisition-Learning Hypothesis Natural Order Hypothesis Monitor Hypothesis	use concrete referents to support speech and text provide authentic practice opportunities don't insist on absolute accuracy give ELs more time on tests reduce EL anxiety
